The New Baltimore Farmers Market Opens 12th Season with more Local Food, Farmers, Growers, & Producers

April 09, 2019

NEW BALTIMORE, MI. –

The New Baltimore Farmers Market (NBFM) will kick off its 12th successful season on Sunday May 5, 2019 and will continue each Sunday through October 20, 2019. This year the NBFM is proud to be hosting more local food, farmers, growers, & producers with also an accelerated number of participants overall. The market will once again be located on Washington Street between Main and Front Streets in the heart of the City of New Baltimore, located in the Northeast corner of Macomb County on the Anchor Bay shores of Lake St. Clair. Market hours are 9:00 am – 2:00 pm with FREE Yoga in the Park held during market days from 11am-Noon in the months of June through August with rain day yoga to be held inside the nearby MacDonald Public Library.

The NBFM would like to express their appreciation to local leaders and business owners for their continued support as well as to the following businesses & organizations for their seasonal sponsorship: Biggby Coffee of New Baltimore, Coordinated Crafters LLC, Davis-Vandenbossche Insurance Agency, Macomb County-Make Macomb Your Home, Meijer, The Village of East Harbor, Community First Health Centers, Brieden Orthodontics and Harbor Oaks Hospital.

Newly-elected NBFM Board President Sierra Lyons expresses: “We are proud to once again bring the market to the community with the support of local leaders & business owners, our sponsors as well as our customers, vendors, & participants. This support allows us to offer not only our regular weekly markets but also to host the annual Special Event Markets that the community enjoys and has come to look forward to each season.” Special event markets take place each month with information & details available at our website www.newbaltimorefarmersmarket.com and sponsorship opportunities are still available.

MIFMA-Certified Market Manager Debra Williams adds: “This season we are happy to have over 10 farmers/growers along with locally-sourced, produced honey & maple syrup; more than 12 local food vendors; a wide-variety of handmade/homemade products; artists; an assortment of entrepreneurs; and more! Last year the market averaged over 1600 visitors per Sunday. We anticipate seeing more shoppers this year due to increased promotion efforts by the NBFM Board of Directors and myself.”

The NBFM believes in everyone having access to fresh, healthy, and local food; which is why the market has accepted Bridge Cards since 2011 & Double Up Food Bucks (DUFb) since 2012. Once again, the NBFM will offer up to $20 in FREE Michigan produce per market day for each shopper using SNAP benefits on their Bridge Card through the DUFb Program all season long. This program benefits the community by allowing shoppers more access to healthy, local food while adding sales to the farmers, growers, producers & food vendors. Additionally new people gain exposure to New Baltimore businesses.
